

Matrimonial & Family Law Consultations

Depending upon the complexity of your case, you can expect to spend approximately 45 minutes with the attorney. You should bring with you copies of the following:

- (i) a recent, representative pay stub
- (ii) Federal and State income tax returns for the past 3 years
- (iii) retirement account statements
- (iv) pension account statements
- (v) the completed Matrimonial Client Questionnaire.

The following are topic areas which the attorney will discuss with you at your consultation. Your advance consideration of these issues may help you formulate questions to address your specific circumstances.

- Physical custody arrangements and visitation schedules

- Payment of child support, child care expenses, health insurance, and unreimbursed health care expenses of the children
- Dependency exemptions on tax returns
- Spouse's health insurance coverage following divorce
- Spousal support (maintenance)
- Division of Personal Property
- Division of Real Property (Real Estate)
- Division of Debts
- Division of pension, retirement and deferred compensation

The standard consultation fee of $95.00 is payable at the time of this consultation.
